DEATH OF RUFUS WHIPPLE.

Passes Away in Los Angeles-Had Gone to California in Search of Health.

"Corianton" Scores Another Success In Ogden -Alleged Shoplifters and Pickpocket Arrested.

Rufus Harland Whipple, a well known and highly respected attorney of Ogden, died Saturday noon at Los Angeles, Cal., where he has been living for the benefit of his health, for the past few months, with his wife, Mrs. Jennie Whipple. The sad news of his demise was received in Ogden late Saturday afternoon through a telegram sent by his son Fred Whipple of this city who was at his father's bedside when the sad end came. The news brought sadness to the hearts of the deceased's many friends in Ogden, Mr. Whipple had resided in Ogden about 12 years, coming here from lowa. He was an able attorney and figured prominently for a number of years in public life

Mr. Whipple left Ogden a few months ago, accompanied by his wife, with the intention of making California his home. Shortly after his arrival he was attacked with acute F ht's disease, which soon diminished his strengtht until the sad end came.

His remains will be brought to Ogden for interment. The family left Los Angeles for Ogden with the body last evening, and will arrive here Tuesday morning. Arrangements for the funer-al will be made by the A. O. U. W. of thich order he was a member.

Rufus H. Whipple was born at Akron, , May 24, 1852. He came to Utah li. 1890. During Mayor Brough's admin-istration he was city attorney. He was appointed United States commis sioner of the Second district at Dutch Harbor, Alaska, by President McKin-ley, in 1900, which position he held for about a year. He has been a man of firm character and desirous of doing good to his fellowman.

"Corianton" is one of the finest plays that was ever presented to an Ogden audience, and the people of Ogden turned out in great numbers to witness the performance Friday and Saturday evenings. The star actors in the play are professional stage men, and play their parts with great effect. The play is sure of success throughout its tour. sure of success throughout its tour, Manager Blair of the company feels confident that he has one of the firest productions to present to the world that was ever placed on the stage.

ALLEGED SHOPLIFTERS ARREST-

Two men giving their names as Chas Menson and J. L. Benson were placed under arrest Saturday evening on the charge of shoplifting. The two men entered B. G. Knoth's drug store early in the evening, and acted very sus-piciously, calling for three different kinds of drugs. Mrs. Knoth was at the rear of the prescription case, and when Mr. Knoth stepped that way he asked her quietly to watch the men. Presently one of them picked up the city rectory and started out of the store with it, supposedly for the purpose of getting Mr. Knoth to following him, which he did, presuming, no doubt, that his partner might be able to tap the money till, but just then Mrs. Knoth stepped forward and watched the one man while her husband caught the other, whom he returned to the drug store the other fellow started to leave, but Mr. Knoth grabbed him and held him, while his wife bravely caught the other nan's arms behind him and they were held until two officers arrived, they were placed under arrest and taken to the police station, one of the men had 25 cents on his person and the other man $40 when searched.

A man giving his name as Ed Hamilton was arrested by Chief of Police Browning and Detective Pender yesterday afternoon on the charge of stealing a watch. The police were called to a Twenty-fifth street saloon yesterday afternoon, where the trouble had occurred. The man who was pointed out to the police was soon arrested. The watch stolen from another man, who was in the saloon, was found in his pos-session when he was searched at the police station.

Freight Car Hold-up-Kelly Acquitted On Second Charge-White-Leavitt Nuptials.

Special Correspondence.

Provo, Utah Co., Aug. 25 .- L. L. Leffew, a young man who was held in the county jail to await the action of the district court on a charge of forgery, committed by forging and passing a worthless check on George Hartley in this city about a month ago, left his quarters about 7:30 last evening. He had been sick for some time, although Dr. Robison says there was nothing the matter with him except worrying over his imprisonment, and Sheriff Storrs had permitted him to occupy the woman's ward, upstairs in the fron part of the jail. As Deputy Sheriff Bezzant went out to feed the prisoners last evening, he left the front door unlocked, while he went into the in-ner room where the cells are situated. This left a fine chance for Leffew to come down stairs and waik away, which he improved, and had been gone about ten minutes when his at was discovered. The officers immediate. started out to search for Leffew and about two hours after his escape he was discovered by Deputy Sheriff Henry, who was on his way to This-tle, trying to jump on the train on which the sheriff was traveling. ever, and when Sheriff Henry reached Springville he telegraphed to Provo that Leffew was between Provo and Springville. Leffew was found in the Springville. Leftew was found in the R. G. W. yards by Officer Strong, under a car, and the officer told him to come out. Instead of doing so Leftew ran and Officer Strong fired a shot at him, but he succeeded in making his escape into the fields southeast of town.

Leffew is the man who married young lady in Salt Lake City about six weeks ago, who shortly afterwards made complaint to the police to the effect that he had taken some of the jewelry he had previously made a present of and left. He was arrested in Og-den on suspicion of having passed forged checks in Salt Lake City. The victims of the Sait Lake checks, however, failed to identiy him. He was then brought to Provo and several witnesses identified him as the man who passed the check on Hartley. This morning the escaped prisoner was picked up in Springville by Officer Clark. He was sauntering in leisurely and made no apparent attempt to keep out of sight. When asked wby he had broken away from custody he simply replied that the chance presented itself and he saw no reason why he should not take advan-tage of it. He intimated that there were better things in life than incarceration in prison, and that when man got an opportunity to get that which was better he lacked good judgment if he did not govern him-self accordingly. On being returned to Provo' the prisoner considered his capture in the most philosophical manner imaginable.

HELD UP IN A FREIGHT CAR.

E. V. Smith, constable at Thistle, egraphed the sheriff's office to the robbers yesterday morning, and $118.25 and a 14-carat Waltham nickel-movement watch taken from them, between Springville and Thistle. No particulars were given, except that the men who were robbed got off at Thistle Junction. Deputy Sheriff Henry went out on the No. 4 to look the case up At Thistle he found that the men who were robbed were traveling from Cali-fornia to Colorado. They were beating their way and riding in a ing their way and riding in a Gattle-ship" freight car. At Springville, the robbers, also three in number, got into the same car, and at Mapleton they made the Californians "stand and deliver," after which they made them kneel down with their faces to the end of the car. When one of them took courage to look around, the robbers were gone having jumped off. robbers were gone, having jumped off, as the train was going slowly through cut. There is a large gang of tramps camped about half a mile north of the Springville depot and they will probably be rounded up today with the expectation of catching the robbers.

LIVERY RIG MISSING.

Sheriff Storrs was also notified to look out for two young men, each about 25 years of age, one light complexioned and one dark emplexioned, both clear shaven, who obtained a Studebaker top buggy and a thin brown horse, bone spavined on both hind legs, from a Lehi livery stable Saturday evening, and have not been heard from since.

KELLY IS ACQUITTED.

J. S. Kelley, of Tucker, was tried on the second charge against him for selling beer without a license Saturday, before City Justice John, a change of venue having been taken from Justice Foote's court. Kelly was acquitted by a jury. Some damaging evidence, to the effect that he had admitted to Sheriff Storrs that he had sold liquor and defied the sheriff to catch him, which was admitted at the hearing of the first case before Justice Foote, was ruled out by Justice John, and Kelly also had witnesses in this case we testified very strongly in his behalf.

IBAPAH. DRUNKEN INDIAN KILLED

By His Own Son - Tragedy Due to Illicit Whisky Selling. Special Correspondence,

Ibapah, Tooele Co., Aug. 20.—An Indian by the name of Lucky Joe was killed at the Indian farm in the south end of this valley (Deep Creek) last night, by his son Ibapah.

Lucky Joe had imbibed too much whisky, became quarrensome with the result that his brains were beaten out by his son.

Judge Suively held an inquest over his body, the jury reaching the following verdict: That the said Lucky Joe came to his death, at the Indian ranch in Deep Creek Valley, Juab Co. Utah, Aug. 19, 1902, at about 7:30 p. m. by being struck on the head in three places, with a 45-90 caliber rifle (Winchester) in the hands of Ibapah, his son. After said Lucky Joe had threatened to kill said Ibapah, and did shoot in-discribinately around said Indian ranch, etc."

Predictions have often been made that there would be some one killed if there was no stop put to selling and giving the Indians whisky.

Information is in the hands of Justice of the peace sufficient to convict at least one of those that have been enleast one of those that have been engaged in this horrible traffic. Ibopah is now in custody awaiting the arrival of the sheriff of Juab county. There being no jail in the valley and no suitable place of detention. The murderer was placed on parole, he pledging his was placed on parole, he pledging his word of honor to not run away, it is more than probable that he will remain, as he was given to understand by some of the young men of the tribe, that if he attempted to leave, they would trail him, and would not bring him back alive. He has been a great favorite among both the whites and Indians and it was a very great surprise that he took the terrible step he did. It wil be remembered by the older readers of the "News," that a few years ago ar Indian got drunk and carried on a such a rate down near the Utah and Nevada depot that the patrol wagon run down there, when the officers ar-rived they found the Indian naked, and when Officer Merrill attempted to ar rest him both the Indian and his squav sat upon the officer, the squaw with a knife and gave him a hard fight for his life. That Indian and squaw and their son are the princpal actors in this great tragedy, the father dead, and the son an outcast from the tribe.

CICANTIC CANAL PROJECT

"Oneida Irrigation District" Farmers Unite to Build Canal and Reservoirs.

Scheme Involves Expenditure of $300,000-To Irrigate 32,000 Acres

Special Correspondence. Preston, Oneida Co., Ida., Aug. 23.-

The following clipping from the Boise Capital News gives a graphic write-up of the "Oneida Irrigation District." As there are several hundred members of the district who are readers of Desert News its republication will be appreciated. The project is getting along nicely: its promotors expect to commence work on the ditch this fall. The canal will water the lands near Oxford, Clifton, Dayton and Weston, Oneida county, Ida .: Not often is there found in any agri cultural community a harmony of in-terests of such magnitude to carry into execution a plan which involves the expenditure of almost $300,000, but this common interest is about to be, and in fact, is being exemplified by the farmers residing in the Idaho portion of Cache valley. This valley, located in the southeastern part of the state and in what was once considered to be an arid section, has already been partly redeemed to the uses of husbandry by the enterprising men and women who have emigrated from other states or countries, and that portion of it over which the people have been able to dis-tribute water has been transformed into a veritable garden spot; but until re-cently the population of the valley has not been sufficient to warrant the expending of a sum such as is necessary for the deflecting and distributing sufficient water to properly irrigate the thousands of acres of fertile land which only needs moisture to make it one of the most productive sections of the

This has been proven inasmuch as that portion of this valley lying east of Bear river is now and has been for ome years one of the most reliable districts in the production of crops The wheat crop of this year, notwithstanding the late frosts, will yield large profits to the acreage, it having been redeemed from the frost effects only by the supply of water used in irrigating. The crops on the west side of the river, where they are practically without water, are very light. This section of the valley and through the midst of which the main line of the Oregon Short Line from Salt Lake to Pocatello passes, comprises some 35,000 acres of the most desirable land and which it is proposed to put under complete irrigation by means of an immense canal which, according to the preliminary surveys already made, to be about 50 miles in length. The includes only the main canal and does not consider the large mileage of the laterals. This canal is to be built by the people of the district and who have organized themselves into a com-pany controling the Oneida irrigation

They have already almost unanimously voted for the district according to the provisions of the late act of Congress and have their maps and charts filed with the state engineer.
According to their proposed plan they are to take their water from Mink creek, about 18 miles north of Preston, in a westerly direction, crossing Bear river by means of an immense syphon to the town of Clifton, and thence in a southerly direction to the Utah state line. The syphon used in crossing river is estimated to cost nearly $30,000 and is to be constructed of redwood staves with steel bands. There are two other sections of the main canal to be built in a similar manner, and which will cost about $25,000. The syphon ca-

The total area of the district is a little more than 38,000 acres, but about 6,000 acres of this amount has been excluded as being inaccessible to canal. The remaining portion of the valley, about 32,000 acres, has carefully divided into classes A, B and C, for the purpose of assessing to each class the benefits accruing thereto. The area under class A approximates 27,-500 acres, and which is assessed at $9.85 per acre. There is under class B about 3,750 acres assessed at $2.75 per acre, and under class C only 640.5 acres assessed at $1 per acre. From these assessments is to be raised the entire cost of the canal system, which includes the construction of seven reservoirs located at various points in the mountains along the line of the main canal. These reservoirs alone are estimated to cost over $49,000. The reser voirs, it is claimed, will not be needed any vear, judging from the amount of water available, before the latter part of July, and from which time they will supply abundance of water for the rest

This proposition, to many communities, would seem to be an overwhelming task, but to the enterprising people of Cache vailey nothing is too massive an obstacle to be overcome if they and the valley are to be benefited thereby.

It is reasonably estimated that the value of land will be enhanced from $10 per acre, it's present value, to at least four or five times that amount. While the property owners of this dis-trict are willing to bond their land for the entire cost of this project, yet it is bound to be considerable of a burden upon them and it would seem to one familiar with the district that a part of the money appropriated by the government for the arid sections of the west should come this way. It would certainly prove a good investment when we consider the increased revenue which would be derived from taxes, etc.
